Here are links to two videos, teaching about making habitats. The videos were made from classes held at the Stillwater Natives nursery in the summer of 2025.

Thanks go to the class instructors: Dave Kollen, a Xerces Society Ambassador, Darcy Grahek of Stillwater Natives Nursery and Tatiana Havill of Wild Pollinator Gardens. These videos have a lot of good information that we hope will inspire you to participate in any amount of habitat restoration for songbirds and pollinators. We cannot emphasize enough that preparation of the ground takes time and patience, but the rewards are phenomenal.

There is great joy and healing to come from your investment.

The videos are over an hour each so maybe watch them in increments rather than all at once. The links are below and the videos are housed on our website, also.

Thanks for being part of the solution.
